

Bringing together the strands of life

Under the broad theme of sequencing, the conference will encompass a wide range of topics, from animal welfare to zoonotic diseases, bringing together many of the issues we face day to day. Further details to follow soon.

VPHA and AGV Autumn Conference, 12 October 2019
Dunchurch Park Hotel, Dunchurch, Warwickshire, CV22 6QW

PLEASE...

PROMOTE THE CONFERENCE! Tell your friends and colleagues

NOTE THE DIFFERENCE FROM PREVIOUS AUTUMN CONFERENCES:

- the formal dinner will be on Friday and
- the conference finishes on Saturday pm

We hope you will be able to join us for this year's Autumn conference in Warwickshire. The venue looks beautiful with extensive grounds, comfortable accommodation, good food and ample parking. The conference itself promises to be its usual mix of interesting speakers and a chance to meet up with friends and colleagues, make new acquaintances and renew old ones (some older than others!).

This time we are trying a slight change of timetable, with the dinner being moved to Friday night and the conference finishing on Saturday. We hope this will help you by both reducing the cost of attendance and freeing up your Sundays to use for something even more enjoyable than travelling back home from the conference. The spring 2020 conference will be keeping the Friday to Sunday structure.

Hope to see you there!
